FRIDAY MORNING NOV 20, 1863

Democratic Opinions of the Elections

It is amusing to notice how badly the peace organs comment upon the late elections—particularly in Ohio and Pennsylvania The Cincinnati Enquirer, the next morning, published no returns, but referred its readers to the Union journals in the columns of which they would find full and reliable reports But the Eugene City Review confesses its disappointment Its poor little heart is nearly broken It says

"We felt sure of a Democratic victory in Pennsylvania and also in New York It seems we are disappointed The causes for this extraordinary change in public sentiment in those States since last year we cannot divine, and it would be idle for us at this distance, without any reliable data at hand, to conjecture"

And then a ray of hope springs triumphant and lights up its treasonable breast, for it goes on

"But of this we feel assured—that the reaction next year will be greater than it has been this year, and in favor of the Democracy The power and wealth and influence and corruption of the Administration has been too powerful, perhaps, at this time for the Democracy to overcome, and there are yet too many of that worse than simple class who, while they detest Abolitionism, think it wise or right to prosecute the war They call themselves War Democrats and vote for straight Abolitionists Perhaps honest of purpose themselves, they follow the lead of such apostates, renegades and mercenaries as Butler, Dickinson, Stanton and Dix, and seem blind to the fact that each of these men and their fellows have sold themselves to the Abolitionists as Benedict Arnold sold himself to the British—for money and a commission Their eyes will be opened before another year rolls by, and their blindness may then serve us a good purpose We feel sanguine that when the American people—outside of the New England majorities—become fully aware of the infamous designs of the Abolitionists, as they must next year, they will rally with overwhelming, irresistible force, to the cause of Democracy, Justice and Constitutional Liberty If they will, we can very well afford the defeats of this year If they will not, it matters little how State elections go this year or next, for an Abolition triumph at the ensuing Presidential election will sound the knell of the American Union and forever prostrate Liberty in the land"

What a sad prospect that is! Will not War Democrats come to the rescue, and spurning the example of such men as Dickinson, Andy Johnson, Cass, Dallas and the crowds of apostates and renegades, who like them stand by their country in her peril—follow in the footsteps of the Review, and of Vallandigham and Fernando Wood? Can they bear to see the bitter pangs of disappointment which their desire to be patriotic, has caused? The Review expects them back to the Democratic fold next year—and their present "blindness will serve a good purpose" We don't see how, nor does it condescend to tell us, but of course it is so, or we should not find it in the Review Now "they are worse than simple"—if they come back We suppose they will only be simple, but the Review need not fret they won't come—'the last link is broken." When the Peace Democracy denounced the war and expressed its sympathy for secession, it drove from its ranks every loyal and patriotic man who had intelligence enough to perceive where its course was tending, and we are sure that all such will continue to oppose it, so long as it opposes the Government and gives strength to the rebellion.

SATAN GETTING MAD —The Marietta (Ga) Rebel says that "President Davis was heard to exclaim, in a circle of friends at the capital, that he would snatch Tennessee from the clutches of the Abolitionists, if it took the united armies of the Confederacy to accomplish it"

That sounds well, but suppose his infernal majesty don't succeed in his 'snatching' experiment, with all his united armies what then? Certainly there does not seem to be much prospect of his conquering Tennessee—for the State is now well defended by the best and bravest troops of the Federal army, and what is still better, her people are daily becoming more earnest in their loyalty to the Government, and more thoroughly sick of secession The bogus President may as well give it up He cannot snatch Tennessee, but if he will try the experiment, there is a fair chance for Gen Grant to snatch the united armies of the South "So mote it be"

JUST CAUSE FOR BOASTING —Speaking of the bombardment of Charleston, and the destruction of Sumter by our guns, while Wagner lay between our batteries and that fort, and the shelling of Charleston from five miles distance, the London Telegraph says

If the Americans are vain of being "big," why not do them the justice of confessing that they attain that adjective in their contentions, their sufferings and their engines and methods of warfare Twice in the course of this two years struggle they have altered the complexion of the science of destruction—once on the water and once by land

THANKSGIVING DAY IN WASHINGTON TERRITORY —Gov Pickering, of Washington Territory, has issued his proclamation appointing Thursday, the 26th inst, a day of Thanksgiving and prayer.

From a Temporary Sojourner at Victoria V I

VICTORIA V I, Oct 20 1863

EDITOR OREGONIAN

This morning the revenue cutter Joe Lane (her name ought to be changed for a patriotic one) came into port, bringing Dr Gunn, the new Collector at Port Angelos He has now gone with the cutter to San Juan, with Major Winston on board, who visits that island for the payment of troops

Last week Gov Gibbs was here It was refreshing to loyal Americans to meet him here He is for putting down the rebels in a way that will prevent another rebellion

We had a strange arrival here the other day It was a vessel made entirely of steel The masts were also steel She was schooner rigged of about 300 tons and is said to sail very fast Since her arrival rumors have been rife that the rebels have been trying to buy her for a privateer and it is further said that if they give the price asked, they can have her We shall see About three weeks ago, an English ship called the Jasper arrived here from Liverpool, with near one thousand barrels of powder, shell, &c, which some suppose to have connection with the advent of the schooner spoken of, in the waters

It is a great blunder that the U S Government has no war vessels in the North Pacific We have nothing in the shape of a war vessel but the Joe Lane brigantine, a poor sailer, and poorly manned and armed

The miners are now coming down from the upper country, generally in desperate circumstances, mostly secesh, and ready for anything The rebels here seem to be active have their regular private meetings, as is understood, and would be willing to act should any misfortune occur to our national arms It is well understood, however, that the Government will promptly put a stop to privateering from this port The change of policy in England will have a salutary effect here

We are again in the midst of a gold excitement A few days ago it was announced that a large gold field had been struck twelve miles from the city Some three or four hundred men immediately rushed for it—lawyers, doctors, merchants, &c, and news from there last night says that there are five hundred miners on the ground staking off claims, building and prospecting The diggings are reported as paying two to three dollars a day The Governor visited the grounds yesterday, and it is said, is highly gratified with the prospects If the hopes of the people here are realized, the discoveries will be a vast benefit to Victoria

THE IDAHO MURDERERS —We find in the Sacramento Union, a more particular statement of the facts mentioned yesterday concerning these blood thirsty and infernal wretches

The hearing in the case of the Idaho murderers on habeas corpus was resumed in the Supreme Court at 10 o'clock yesterday morning before Judges Norton and Crocker Judge Norton stated, with reference to the motion of J W Coffroth for leave to amend the return, that the Judges did not deem it necessary to make such amendment, but that counsel might use his own discretion in the case Coffroth then amended the return by adding to it the affidavit of Wickersham on which Governor Daniels had issued his requisition A Campbell, for the prisoners, excepted to the affidavit on the ground of insufficiency It stated that the murder had been committed on the trail between Virginia City and Lewiston, but did not say whether in Idaho or Nevada Territory It also alleged that the fugitives were presumed to have fled, but did not assert as a fact that they had fled After presenting other objections to the affidavit and requisition, the Judges decided that the requisition, although not so complete as it ought to be, was not fatally defective—that although the affidavit ought to be recited in full, that omission was not sufficient to justify a discharge of the prisoners Judge Crocker stated that a written opinion in the case would be given as soon as practicable The prisoners were remanded to the custody of the officers having them in charge for the purpose of removal to Idaho The prisoners received the announcement of the decision with apparent indifference They were removed to the station house, and from there were, before two o'clock, taken on board the San Francisco boat For the purpose of safe keeping they were handcuffed and locked up in a stateroom Hill Beachy, Captain Lees and officer Evatt formed their escort These prisoners will be taken up on the next Oregon steamer to Portland From there they will be removed to Lewiston, Idaho Territory Their case is especially interesting, from the fact that about a year ago three highwaymen were arrested at Portland and taken back to Lewiston On their arrival they were met by the citizens en masse, by whom they were all hung in about an hour To prevent any such action in the present case, it is said that General Wright has given orders that they be placed under a military escort, to be delivered up to the civil authorities

A PARAGRAPH FOR LITTLE GIRLS —The Wheeling Intelligencer says "Every little miss who will look up to the word 'House wife' in Webster's Dictionary will find the name and description of a little article that, to the soldiers in the field is extremely acceptable One of the public schools in Pittsburg sent a box of them to the Christian Commission, and the youthful donors have been blessed for the gift by as many soldiers as there were 'housewives' to give them The article is simply a receptacle for buttons, thread, pins, needle tape, &c Odds and ends of the work bag furnish the material, though oiled muslin or other water proof-stuff is better The moment the box reached the field 'do give me one, sir,' was the word until the last one was gone The Government would economize by issuing them to the soldiers, that they might mend their own clothes, but the school-girls must do it instead If the girls of the public and private schools would set at once to work they could earn the gratitude of every soldier that their little presents reach"

We publish the above for the purpose of suggesting to the busy fingered girls of Oregon, who we doubt not will be glad to learn what they can do to help the soldiers, that if they will prepare the excellent little conveniences alluded to, a way shall be found to send them safely to the army, they may be forwarded as fast as made, either to this office, or to Mrs E Ainsworth in this city.

GOOD BOYS —The Circuit Court of Jackson county has recently been in session without a criminal case on the docket The Grand Jury waited three days for something to turn up, but was finally compelled to submit to a discharge without finding a single indictment Jacksonville must be very stupid if it cannot furnish even a whisky saloon, worthy of consideration by the Court, to say nothing of Chinese and other institutions, which our Grand Jury found scattered about our good city in more profusion than seemed desirable, or in accordance with the statutes, in such case made and provided

EASTERN NEWS.

CHICAGO Nov 11 —The New York Times special dispatch from Washington says The main force of the rebels were at Gordonsville yesterday (Monday morning) marching [illegible] toward Richmond Meade is waiting for supplies and for repairs of the railroad [illegible] will be abandoned and Aquia Creek will be the next base of supplies Seventeen hundred muskets were gathered after the recent fight, most of them in serviceable condition Two of the cannon captured were 10 pounder Parrotts and two 12 pounder Napoleons with caissons all complete

A [illegible] just from Richmond, says it was decided a few days since at a rebel Cabinet session to abandon Virginia at the first intimation of Meade's advance upon Richmond

A special dispatch to the World says There has been a fresh disposition of forces for strategical purposes, but otherwise everything is quiet There is very little skirmishing with the rebels outside of Culpepper and according to all accounts it is by no means certain that all the rebel army is across the Rapidan It is reported General Buford made a reconnoissance yesterday toward Centreville and came upon a portion of the rebel General Wilcox's division and after a sharp skirmish compelled them to fall back Darkness prevented pursuit Our troops do not occupy Fredericksburg nor Falmouth, Kilpatrick's cavalry only having visited there one day before our advance If the rebels maintain their position between Culpepper and the Rapidan it is quite probable a battle may yet be fought This is Lee's chosen battle ground according to his official report of our advance some weeks since The impression is general in the army that all his forces will yet cross the Rapidan notwithstanding their partial halt this side

A special dispatch to the Tribune says The railroad on the south side of the Rappahannock has been opened as far as Running Waters, and transportation gained for supplies

From the front we have the following, dated Headquarters Army of the Potomac Monday night November 9th Buford's cavalry division returned from a reconnoissance to Culpepper at noon to day having driven the enemy before them from Sulphur Springs to within a mile of Culpepper A portion of the enemy's infantry, with artillery, was encountered last night about sunset near Culpepper and in the skirmish which ensued we sustained a loss of about twenty five killed and wounded, but a small proportion being killed In the opinion of the officers accompanying the reconnoissance the main body of Lee's army will not be met this side of the Rapidan, although a portion of their troops occupied Culpepper

Scouts from the front to night (10th) report Kilpatrick's movements as having reference to the possibility of any attacks on our flanks or rear A violent snow squall occurred yesterday To night the weather is quite cold The roads are in good condition The troops are in excellent spirits

Herald has the following from the Headquarters of the Army of the Potomac, dated November 10th Yesterday two squadrons of the First New York Dragoons, under command of Captain Knapp attached to Buford's division, left the command at Madison Court House to reconnoiter They proceeded to Culpepper and charged through the town, driving twice their own number of rebels before them, rested themselves and horses, while they took fifteen prisoners and then returned with their trophies to Brandy Station We hold Culpepper to day and our lines extend to the Rapidan below The railroad will be complete to Bealeton to night. The road will be repaired as fast as the army advances All quiet in front to day The rebels are moving to the south side of the Rapidan

The Herald has the following dispatch dated Warrenton Junction, November 9th We hear of no fighting to day, but parties who have just arrived report passing about 700 prisoners who where captured in the vicinity of Culpepper This makes our captures 2 500

The Philadelphia Inquirer's army correspondence says General Buford returned on Monday night to the vicinity of Brandy Station having advanced to within four miles of Culpepper where he met, on Sunday night, Wilcox's division of Hill's corps with whom he had a fight lasting two hours He drove the rebels for some distance and picketed the ground Being short of forage etc he returned to the main body His brigade and the Thirteenth Indiana Cavalry were principally engaged About fifty were killed and wounded The rebel loss is unknown They left fifty dead on the field, buried several and carried off many wounded Next morning the rebels retired towards the Rapidan From what Buford learned in the vicinity of Culpepper the supposition is that all of Lee's army is across the Rapidan They occupy Woody Mountains a short distance beyond Culpepper a signal station whence they can observe the movements of our army to advantage

A Washington correspondent says An order has been issued permanently relieving General Heintzelman from the command at Washington and placing General C C Auger in that position No reason has been assigned for Heintzelman's removal

The necessary measures are being taken by the President to provide the Federal prisoners at Richmond with the necessaries of life An effort will also be made to see if the rebels will not parole the men held by them for exchange

Curacoa dates to October 22d state that a Venezuela fleet, belonging to the old Government party, had arrived at Curacoa, October 17th, and surrendered to the commander of the Federal fleet It consisted of six sailing vessels, one steamer and a number of smaller craft Venezuela is now in the hands of the Federals, or insurgents A large number of St Domingo refugees had arrived, who report the insurrection there to be spreading and that the slaughter of both Spanish invaders and natives was very severe

WASHINGTON November 11 —Meade's official report of the battle of Gettysburg was promulgated to day It gives the following as the losses of the enemy Three guns forty one standards and 13 621 prisoners Our losses foot up at 2 834 killed, 13 709 wounded and 6 643 missing

A gentleman from the Army of the Potomac yesterday says the position of both armies is believed to be such that our reconnoissances may at any time lead to a general engagement

All the prisoners here will soon be transmitted to Johnson's Island Lake Erie This would indicate that the resumption of exchange is as far off as ever

Special dispatches from Cincinnati give a singular story about two suspicious looking vessels being discovered yesterday hovering about Sandusky Bay Lake Erie supposed to be privateers fitted out by Secessionists in Canada and the United States Their supposed objects are the release of the rebel prisoners on Johnson's Island piracy on the lakes and pillages on land Batteries of Parrott guns have been ordered forthwith to the island

General Meade has issued a congratulatory order to the army on the recent successful passage of the Rappahannock in the face of the enemy and he says the President has expressed his satisfaction with recent operations

The tenor of the information brought by deserters and refugees as to want in the South, especially in Richmond, in consequence of the scarcity of food, is greatly beyond what the Richmond papers venture to divulge The people there ask if this is the condition of things now what will it be all through the Winter and up to the distant period when another crop can be raised They say now that if they have to succumb to the North it will be from famine and not from force of arms Most of the officers captured on Saturday (7th), and who are in the old Capitol declare their willingness to take the oath of allegiance and confirm the worst stories of approaching famine in the South

A letter dated November 4th from a prisoner in Libby Prison Richmond says there is no prospect now of exchange, though they number some thirteen thousand, one thousand of whom are commissioned officers

We learn from the Raleigh Standard that the rebels are constructing a railroad connection between Baldwinsville Georgia and Greensboro North Carolina About fifteen miles of the road have been completed The cars are expected to run through by New Year's day, or at the furthest by Spring This will open a new line of communication between Richmond and the southwest over the North Carolina Central Railroad

It was stated several days ago that two of Gen Burnside's most easterly outposts in Tennessee had been attacked by rebels and half of the garrisons consisting of two regiments and a battery had been captured Gen Grant's dispatch had not designated the exact place where this occurred nor state the strength of the rebels nor the probable number of killed and wounded on our side Gen Burnside has telegraphed that the disaster occurred [illegible] miles from Knoxville He also states that the rebels captured 600 men and four cannon and he does not mention the number of killed and wounded His main army is where it was when the attack was made in an impregnable position, under the orders of Gen Grant

CHATTANOOGA Nov 10th —Georgia refugees who have just come in report a considerable movement of Bragg's troops and stores southward Their lines are said to be preparing to extend to their position before Chattanooga and return to Atlanta Longstreet is said to be organizing a large force for a raid on our lines of communication at Bridgeport Alabama

CAIRO, Nov 11th —From a reliable source we learn that Iuka was burned by the rebels after Gen Sherman's forces left it The railroad is still in running order to Corinth from Memphis The stories about its being abandoned are incorrect

PHILADELPHIA November 11th —Judges Lowrie, Woodward and Thompson of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania being a majority of the Court decided on Monday at Pittsburg in the case of some drafted men, that the Conscription Act is unconstitutional

SMALL FREIGHT —The Wilson G Hunt last night brought down only about forty passengers, and no gold dust except in private possession, there being no connection above the Dalles

BOISE PREFERRED TO CARRIBOO —We conversed yesterday with E D Warbass, Esq, of Washington Territory, who had just come from the Carriboo mines by way of Shuswap and Lake Okanagan He has spent the season in Carriboo, and says those mines are regarded as worked out Very few return to civilization with money enough to make them whole on the trip, while the vast multitudes lured thither by the criminal misrepresentations of the British Colonial press, are reduced to poverty, able in many instances only to get away through charitable assistance or their powers of endurance under circumstances of extreme indigence and fatigue Mr W says that the packers who have been engaged in that region during the past year are now on their way to the valleys of the Columbia, to winter their stock, and be ready in the spring to convey cargoes of goods to the Boise region, where every man who labors can win gold, to pay them for their merchandize and freight Very few of the persons who have been up at Carriboo this season will ever visit the "steam boat" again, while it is said a great majority of them will apply their well experienced energies to the development of our mineral resources, and thus rapidly enrich themselves The few deposites of gold in British Columbia were sufficient to attract, by the glaring and widely circulated details of their immensity and richness, the hardy laborers in more certainly profitable mines, as well as representatives of nearly every trade and profession, to the despoiling of their property, and in many instances to the ruin of their health, owing to the unexpected hardships and privations they were called upon to encounter. The bitter denunciations against those who have thus played upon the credulity of those victims are still fresh in the ears of the world to require repetition here That the Carriboo mines, as a compensatory labor to more than a mere handful of men, are a most egregious humbug, is a fact, established beyond contravention by our own mines, we are not called upon to even express an opinion. It is a notable fact, however, that out of the many thousands who have come down to spend the winter in the older settlements of this State, or to leave for homes beyond our borders, we have not heard a single individual pronounce the mines a failure, or charge misrepresentation upon those who induced them to go up. Enough persons have spent the summer in our mountain mines and have departed to spend the winter time amid scenes more congenial with their tastes, to convey abroad a true account of our mineral resources, and upon their representations abroad we can confidently rely for an influx of population next spring, which shall stand without a parallel in any auriferous country since the dawn of the last decade

PAINFUL ACCIDENT —Last evening, at half past four o'clock, a staging in the rear of the Temperance House, on Front street, gave way and precipitated Mr George Grant a distance of twelve feet, to the wharf below, bruising his side very severely. The staging was a temporary arrangement, erected for the purpose of passing some lumber from the wharf up over it, and Mr G had just stepped out upon it to see that everything was all secure, when it fell. The unfortunate man is much respected, sober and industrious, and has been for some time employed in the press room of this establishment

IMPROVED STREET CROSSINGS.—We are glad to note a commendable energy on the part of property holders, within the past few days, in improving the street crossings, thus facilitating travel in direct lines of communication with their places of business The man who is too mean to oblige the public by repairing the walks contiguous to his property, repels patronage, and stands a personation of "penny wise and pound foolish."

THAT "NONDESCRIPT,"—We have seen that are what d'ye call it, and "also, another pet, from the same locality" , Diggs says he believes it will "bear" a mulish relation to the Gyascutus and Carriboo. The Doctor differs with Diggs, on the ground that the "periphery of the—what d'ye call it's—diaphragm" won't admit of any such conclusion

MURDER AT STEILACOOM —We learn that on Saturday, Nov 7th, a most melancholy occurrence took place at Steilacoom, W T, resulting in the death of the first mate of the bark Ann Parry, while that vessel was lying at the above port taking in a cargo of lumber It seems that an altercation occurred between the mate and one of the crew, the former struck the latter pretty severely in the face, causing the blood to flow, and as the sailor was washing himself, his assailant again approached him and wished to know if he intended to do duty, when he was answered in the affirmative The mate turned to walk aft, when he was seized by the sailor and thrown over the side of the vessel into the ship's boat, which was alongside. The fall injured the mate to such an extent that he expired in a few hours The sailor is now lodged in jail to answer to the charge of murder —Overland Press

Costiveness Cured.

Indianapolis, Ind., October 12, 1858.

Messrs. A. L. Scovill & Co.—Gents: I am hardly able to express my gratitude for the benefit which my daughter has derived from the use of DR. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS. She had been troubled with what the physicians called the LIVER COMPLAINT; but our doctor failed to give her any permanent relief, although she tried his prescriptions effectually. She had become melancholy, unhappy, and her constitution was much broken down by the use of Mercury. She tried DR. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS, and soon began to get better. I am happy to say that she has entirely recovered her health.

Respectfully yours, JAMES COBB.

A Distressing Headache Cured.

Cincinnati, August 18, 1852.

Messrs. A. L. Scovill & Co.—I have for many years been troubled with severe attacks of headache, which often reduced me to my bed. My sufferings have been very great, and no one can have any idea of their severity except those who have suffered with the same disease. I took your BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA, bathed my head with it, and rubbed it in well. I also took, at the same time, one half of a teaspoonful of saleratus dissolved in one-fourth of a tumbler of water. Soon after, I took a second dose of PANACEA, and it was just the thing for all the world, for it knocked the pain crazy, and I have not had the headache since, for whenever I feel it coming on I take the Panacea, which always checks it at once. How Brough Received the News of His Election.—Late on Tuesday night, October 13th, an enthusiastic crowd of Union men started to serenade Brough at his residence in Cleveland. The party met him in the street and literally carried him to the Atheneum, where they called upon him for a speech. The Leader reports him as saying:

My Friends: You have not talked as much as I have in this campaign, or you wouldn't cheer so now. [Applause.] I was just wondering whether they wouldn't hear this on the other side of Lake Erie. [Immense applause.] You cannot help this cheering I know. As the boy said about his whistling—it whistles itself. [Laughter and cheers.] Like another gentleman, I have been waiting and watching to-night [laughter and applause]—waiting for the county which goes for Vallandigham. [Laughter.]

At this point a telegram was handed the Governor from Secretary Stanton, as follows:

I have received your telegram with great joy. I have never doubted the loyal patriotism of Ohio. Your election is a glorious victory, worthy of the rejoicings which will greet it. E. M. Stanton.

Three tremendous cheers were given for the noble State of Ohio.

A Voice.—How about Pennsylvania?

Brough answered: She goes for Curtin by 30,000 majority. She is only following the regular succession—Maine, California, Ohio—all are coming, and more are to come. [Applause.] For I tell you that in November this tide will sweep New York, and the death knell of Governor Seymour will be rung. [Applause.] We are only occasionally called upon to demonstrate our loyalty, but when called on to come to the rescue, in this election, you have struck a deeper and more terrible blow at the rebellion than by any victory in the field. [Applause.] You have crushed rebellion at home—for there has been more treason uttered in Ohio than ever in Virginia. [Sensation.] You have infused new life into the arms of soldiers. I will not say what the result of defeat would have been. Thank God the peril is past. My sleepless agony was great last night—but it is over now.

But we must not forget that we have a country to stand by. We must make peace by subjugating the rebels. [Applause.] We have won this victory—let us improve it, joyfully for we may, vigorously for we must.

Union Quarrels—The Blairs.—The Republican, (Springfield, Massachusetts,) of Oct. 10th, says: Under these circumstances, the impending Republican schism is greatly to be deplored. If Lincoln or Chase are striving for the Presidential nomination they are much to blame. Probably, however, the struggle is rather between ideas than men; and if so it is inevitable. I believe the radical Republicans would be satisfied with Lincoln, but they will never tolerate the Blairs, whose course in Maryland and Missouri and everywhere is simply infamous. There is not difference enough between them and Woodward and Vallandigham to excite any man's interest for or against one rather than the other. And when it comes to making war upon Salmon P. Chase, who is not only the ablest but the most honest man in the Cabinet—ambitious as he may be, and when it comes to denunciation of the Emancipationists of Missouri and Kansas, who deserve the sympathy of every true man, in spite of Jim Lane and the red-legs, there will of course be blows to give as well as to take. How inevitable is the Copperhead instinct in all these matters! Montgomery and Frank Blair are as welcome to the columns of the Boston Courier as Woodward and Vallandigham are—and not solely because the Courier has hopes of a quarrel, but because it recognizes the genuine ring of the metal (copper) in these malcontents; though for that matter I can discover no ring of any sort in the Postmaster General's speech, and Frank's St. Louis speech was inspired by whisky, as is likely Montgomery's was made on mush and milk. A more stupid, topsy-turvy, and helter skelter production has not seen the light for a long time. The old Blair (Mephistopheles) has ability enough, and the St. Louis scion is not lacking; but the Postmaster General is but little better than a donkey. I dare say he or his father can do something at packing Conventions in Maryland; but every speech he makes which gets in print will damage the man he professes to speak for. I expect to hear that the old man has sent him back to the dead letter office, with a paternal spank if necessary, and that he has taken the field himself. He can't trust his boys.

The Right Position.—The San Francisco Call, in commenting on the Ohio Copperhead plot to release Morgan, closes its article with the following sensible recommendation:

But for once, we hope, the Administration will rise to the dignity of its situation, and show the world that Governments can punish as well as forgive. The crime which these men have undertaken to perform is the blackest ever yet attempted. The utter destruction of our country was the object aimed at and the object possible of accomplishment. To them, one and all, a short shrift and a swift rope should alone be their dole. It affords an opportunity to Government of deterring the traitors who reside in the loyal States from further attempts at such counter-revolutions as they have so glibly prated about for the past two years. Will the Government prove equal to the emergency?

The Charleston Mercury, the original Jacobs of the fire-eating press, is becoming disgusted with the rebel authorities. It says that "although carefully covered over with the mantle of secrecy by Congress, enough has been disclosed by stern realities to show the total incompetency of President Davis to govern the affairs of the Confederacy. He has lost the confidence of both the army and the people." More changeable is an Ethiopian's skin, more transmutable are the colors of a leopard than a traitor's nature. The first to invoke treason and sanction perjury, the Mercury is now ready to desert the man who has probably sustained the power and dignity of his bastard nation longer and more completely than could the whole pestilent crew of South Carolina fire-eaters. They deserve the execration of mankind if for nothing else than their unfathomable meanness.—New Haven Palladium.

Perpetual Motion.—A Vermont Yankee claims to have invented a self-propelling wheel, or perpetual motion. A correspondent of the Boston Journal thus describes it: "It is a simple wheel, runs on gudgeons, and is independent of any outside spring, weight, or power, as a propeller. On the same axle on which the metal wheel is fixed is a band runs over a small pulley that drives a small circular saw. Set it on a table and remove the brake, and it will start itself and run with great velocity, driving the saw. It is the simplest thing in the world, but I cannot intelligibly describe it; but it is at once understood by the beholder. It will not, nay, cannot stop without a brake, as it is so fixed by means of balls and arms that the descending side of the wheel is perpetually further from the centre of motion than the opposition ascending.

A Northern Proof of the Guilt of Northern Sympathizers.—Dr. McClintock writes from England that the hopes of the rebels rest upon the action of the leaders of the opposition in this country, and that the failure of these leaders to compass their end, has summarily knocked away the foundation of the aforesaid hopes. He adds:

"One of those leaders told me in Paris, more than a year ago, with his own lips, that they would never allow the Southern slaveholders to be put down. That person—a Northern man—is now one of the most active and efficient rebel agents in Europe."

EXTRACT BUCHU,

A POSITIVE AND SPECIFIC REMEDY

FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL

DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.

This Medicine increases the power of DIGESTION and excites the ABSORBENTS into healthy action, by which the WATERY or CALCEROUS depositions, and all UNNATURAL ENLARGEMENTS are reduced, as well as PAIN and INFLAMMATION, and is good for MEN, WOMEN OR CHILDREN.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion or Abuse,

ATTENDED WITH THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,

Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the	Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms if allowed to go, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION,"

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS

THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS,

And the melancholy deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion that

THE CONSTITUTION,

once affected by Organic Weakness,

Requires the Aid of Medicine,

to strengthen and invigorate the system, which

invariably does.

A Trial will Convince the most Skeptical.

THOUSANDS UPON THOUSANDS

Who have been the victims of Quacks

and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after marriage.

We have no [illegible] in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used [illegible] our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved tha[illegible] wise will be lost.

We call particular atte[illegible] to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure [illegible] one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own la[illegible] "has been saved by the Bitters:"

Philadelphia, August [illegible]

Messrs. Jones & Evans, [illegible] gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters h[illegible] saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouch[illegible] [illegible] numbers of my comrades, some of whose nam[illegible] appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circu[illegible] [illegible] of my case. I am, and have been for the last fou[illegible] years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ay[illegible] Through the exposure attendant upon my arduou[illegible] [illegible] I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer "State of Maine," from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians who [illegible] been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months: for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours,
ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to life.
